

Westchester County, N.Y., Against World in National Open Battle

Farnell, Diegel, Melhorn, Macfarlane and Other Stars Know Winged Foot Championship Course as Well as Their Home Links

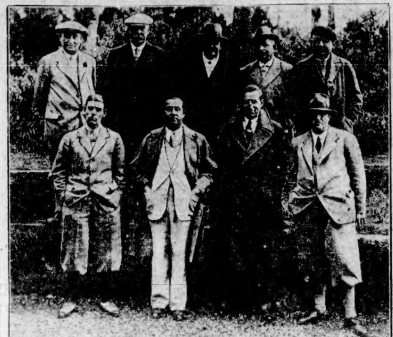

It will be Westchester County, N.Y., which will represent the United States in the National Open golf championship to be played at Winged Foot Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 21, 24 and 27. Those remarkable golfing stars have the most famous in that country. Within a score of miles there of the Winged Foot course are the famous Macfarlane, Farnell, Diegel, Melhorn, Macfarlane, and other stars. The Macfarlane family, who have been in the golfing business for many years, are the owners of the Winged Foot course. But perhaps he is in for a temporary period of human grief. It is impossible that he can quickly break back to his superhuman condition. Moreover, a national championship is to be held on the same links. The Macfarlane family, who have been in the golfing business for many years, are the owners of the Winged Foot course. By J. P. GLASS
If incident worth remembering occurred in Joe Dugan's story of how he and Cy Perkins, Walter Hagen, and I faced Walter Hagen, it was the first time I saw him. He was a big, burly, bald, slender man with a very high forehead. He was wearing a dark suit and a white shirt with a dark tie. He was looking at me with a very serious expression. CRANE VALVES

Built on the Rock of Dependability

"To avoid all deception and trickery," wrote R. T. Crane in 1855. On the wholehearted application of this, as a practical business principle permeating the whole Crane organization, has been built the present trusted reputation that all Crane materials enjoy. In a piece of advertising copy on a Crane bath waste, that had been opened and closed 500,000 times without sticking or sign of wear, appeared the sentence: "In operation, it is perfect." "Nothing ever failed," said a Crane department head, striking out the sentence, "is perfect. One waste might stick and prove us wrong." Never is an item placed in the Crane line unless engineers and experts, after having given it the severest tests that they can devise, are entirely convinced that it will do the work for which it is recommended. Never is a selling assertion made by Crane men unless they are convinced that it is more than justified by the facts. This is one reason why Crane piping, plumbing, and heating materials are so relied upon. Why Crane statements are implicitly trusted.

TRAINED NUDIES IS GREATEST NEED

Canadian Chief of Staff Inspects Corps of Canadian Engineers in Thoroughly Efficient

TORONTO, Ont., May 27.—It is necessary for Canada to have a certain number of military engineers, and the most reliable way of doing this is to have a corps of trained military engineers. The Canadian Corps of Engineers is a corps of trained military engineers, and it is the greatest need of the Canadian military.

From personal observation of the officers and non-commissioned officers, I am convinced we now have a thoroughly efficient and devoted corps of military engineers. They are as good as military engineers in the world, and they are as good as military engineers in the world.

According to the speaker, the present peace-time military organization has an excellent record of 10,000 men, with an annual strength of 10,000 men. They are as good as military engineers in the world, and they are as good as military engineers in the world.

Major-General Macpherson, however, the view of the future would be fought by smaller armies than in the Great War. These armies would be more mobile. They would be equipped with great facilities for movement, and they would be equipped with great facilities for movement.

The speaker also pointed out that the Canadian Corps of Engineers is a corps of trained military engineers, and it is the greatest need of the Canadian military. They are as good as military engineers in the world, and they are as good as military engineers in the world.

Turning to the Royal Canadian Air Force, Major-General Macpherson pointed out that it was necessary to have a certain number of military engineers, and the most reliable way of doing this is to have a corps of trained military engineers.

It is believed that the least benefit from the civil flying is which the R.C.A.F. is engaged on from the fact that the air force is the only one that can be used in the future.

The speaker also pointed out that the Canadian Corps of Engineers is a corps of trained military engineers, and it is the greatest need of the Canadian military. They are as good as military engineers in the world, and they are as good as military engineers in the world.

The Captain's Cadillac has a crew of one

...and Bill Templeton, skipper, pilot, engineer, knows his gasoline!

CAPTAIN JAMES GRIFITH has performed many a hazardous course himself. But this famous Northwest shipping man, yachtsman, Alaska trader and financier prefers to do his hand-going in his Cadillac limousine with Templeton at the helm.

Bill Templeton has more to do, however, than to drive through a Seattle park, to the office, or to the yacht harbor. He has the responsibility of keeping the Captain's car in perfect running order. And knowing what this oil can do to a motor he has chosen one particular gasoline—the "dry" gas. He found that "wet" gasoline ran down the cylinder walls, into the crankcase. Even though he changed oil frequently he always found it thinned—until he started using Shell 400.

It is now a well recognized fact that oil dilution from "wet" gasoline is one of the most serious menaces to automobile motors. Manufacturers and dealers, lubrication men and repairmen are constantly sending out warnings.

And today there is no need of using "wet" gasoline. Shell 400, the "dry" gas, exactly refined to eliminate heavy "wet" petroleum fractions, goes completely vaporized into your motor. No congealing droplets run down the cylinder walls. All it does is go into power and mileage—full value for your gasoline money.

Yellow and red pumps identify Shell 400, the "dry" gas. Thousands of convenient stations sell it.

SHELL 400 The "DRY" gas

New high-compression motors have no room for the hard carbon that comes from burned motor oil. It is important that you use oil that forms no hard carbon. Shell Motor Oil leaves only a little soft soot that blows easily away.

Bill Templeton poses out a bit of advice while his employer goes for a sail in Volunteer Park. Here Bill has found a car that runs quite well on bread and butter and milk.

Last year at the Seattle Yacht Club it was Commodore Griffith's. And the beautiful yacht carried the Commodore's car. Captain Griffith's car is now the property of the Seattle Yacht Club.

A beautiful painting of the old French sailing ship "La France" hangs over the fireplace in the living room of Captain Griffith's home. It marks an older day in shipping—but when the Captain first became associated with the Alaska Transportation Co. he and his divers and barkeepers ruled the seas.

Equimault Board of Trade Urges Restriction for Campbell River Development

That this meeting is of the opinion that no water or power rights belonging to the people should be conveyed until a public utilities commission similar to the one now being organized by the federal government is functioning, and that the commissions which are functioning successfully in other provinces, have been established; and that the place themselves on record that the rates charged for power should be on the actual cost of the physical plant and the "undertaking" was the subject of a unanimous resolution that was carried unanimously last night at a special meeting of the Equimault Board of Trade, held in the Parth Hall, to consider the Campbell River power idea later.

"The decision of the Government in regard to the Campbell River power sites will decide whether Greater Victoria and the communities between here and Campbell River are to attract industries or not," stated Capt. R. P. Matheson.

The boards of trade have petitioned the Government to suspend its decision for three months in order that the people of B.C.

Magistrate Jay Acquits William

William Smith was acquitted by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday on a charge of assaulting George Mabon on May 1.

Mahon, the informant, who appeared in court with his right eye considerably discolored, testified that Smith had assaulted him, and "my eye proves it."

I look after the cabins at 705 told him it was time to go to bed.

I then went to my cabin and Smith

"No, I hadn't. I haven't had any for five weeks. But I had had a bottle of beer before I went to my cabin."

Smith never struck the informant intentionally, he said, adding that

"The weight of evidence is for the defence," said Magistrate Jay. "But the first pushed Smith is the only given by the accused and a better defence witness."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

One of the smartest replies ever made by a Parliamentary candidate must be credited to Lord Palmerston.

"Will you, if returned, support this measure?" demanded a heckler.

After a moment's thought, "Fam" replied, "I will."

"Hurrah!" broke in the becker.
"Not," continued "Pam," at which there were thunderous counter cheers.
"Tell you," he concluded.
